

World Links for Development

Professional Development

Professional Development

- If you don't buy one more computer
- If you don't get any more access
- Still the most important thing to do is:
Professional Development
 - A teaching workforce that uses technology effectively will build the momentum needed to accomplish your infrastructure and access needs.

Professional Development

- PD includes all those experiences, that provide an opportunity for professional growth and learning.
- PD provides an opportunity for people to understand and be part of the organizational vision, and to work with colleagues to achieve common goals.

Professional Development

- Professional Development addresses:
 - the need to be current
 - the need to learn
 - the need to network and exchange experiences with colleagues

Pre-Service Training

- The issue of the need for increased or improved pre-service training is linked to professional development needs.
- The post secondary institutions responsible for teacher education need to examine their own pedagogical style and level of training provided for using ICT in education.

*Professional Development
Activity*

In-Service Designer