

Worldwide Governance Indicators for 2010

This table reports the most recent data on six dimensions of governance from the Worldwide Governance Indicators Project:

Voice & Accountability
Political Stability and Absence of Violence/Terrorism
Government Effectiveness
Regulatory Quality
Rule of Law
Control of Corruption

Data for the earlier periods (between 1996 and 2009), as well as all the data from the individual variables underlying these six aggregate indicators, are available at www.govindicators.org

Country scores are reported here as percentile ranks, with higher values (up to a maximum of 100) indicating better governance ratings (refer to columns labelled "rank"). Percentile ranks indicate the percentage of countries worldwide that score below each country. For example, a country with a percentile rank of 70 means that such country scores above 70 percent of the countries in the world, while scoring below the other 30 percent of (better scoring) countries.

Governance is difficult to measure, and so all measures of governance are subject to some imprecision. A unique feature of the WGI is that it transparently reports this imprecision. In this table, the percentile ranks for each country are accompanied by the confidence interval range of likely values (refer to the 'range' columns in the table, with the lower and upper bound of the range in parenthesis). There is an approximately 90 percent likelihood that the the country's governance rank falls within the stated confidence range.

Country scores are colour-coded according to its percentile ranks, as follows:
